Getting informed Whistleblowers

My name is Edward Snowden, in 2013 I copied and leaked highly classified information from the National Security Agency while employed and contracted out to the Central Intelligence Agency. I was indicted on June 22, 2013 by the US government for espionage, theft and illegal use of government property. I was then exiled in June 2013 to Hong Kong and then to Moscow.

My name is Daniel Ellsberg, in 1971 I provided the New York Times with the Pentagon Papers, 7000 pages of top-secret documentation belonging to the Pentagon on government decision-making during the Vietnam War, making me the first whistleblower. I was awarded the Alternative Nobel Prize in 2006 for putting peace and truth first, at considerable personal risk, and dedicating my life to inspiring others to follow my example.

My name is Chelsea Elizabeth Manning, in 2013 I forwarded to WikiLeaks military documents classified military documents relating to National O civilian deaths during the Afghanistan War, as evidence of abuses by the US Army during the Iraq War. I was sentenced on 21 August 2013 to 35 years in prison.
